

Glenbard 87 School District African American Male Summit College Fair. Minority Student Achievement- Own your future event

I participate in the Glenbard 87 School District African American Male Summit College Fair. One hundred black young men grades from sophomore to Seniors and from all four of Glenbard high schools. These wonderful black young men have been identify by their counselors as college-bound students. They shared a common goal to graduate in four years with as little debt as possible.

The event keynote speaker was principal Michael Campbell from the Bloom Township District 206; he made you think that difficult circumstances do not determine your outcomes or future. It was my honored to present to students on the subject of scholarships. How they could maximize scholarships opportunities from varies avenues and how colleges award scholarships. They were able to discuss their college aspirations and the college admission process with me. In the afternoon college representatives from a diverse group of colleges were in attendance. The students truly appreciated all, the effort that had be made on their behalf Thank you to all the deans, especially Mr.White who are invested in their student's success.

If I can help with your college planning and college admission needs, please do not hesitate to email or call, better to plan now than wait till junior year.

Loren Francis,
Independent Educational Consultant
infor@lfeeducationalconsulting.com

